2010 FAL Match – Detail Course of Fire

“Boot Camp”

All boot camp firing will be at 100 yards.

Stage 1:

Shooter takes assigned position on the line. A one minute preparation period is allowed to organize gear and dry fire. From the standing position shooter inserts a magazine loaded with 10 rounds only in the rifle and fires ten rounds at a bullseye target (SR-1). Shooter then removes magazine, safeties rifle, shows clear to RO, then drops to sitting position.

From the sitting position shooter inserts one magazine loaded with ten rounds and fires ten shots at a bullseye target (SR-1). Shooter then removes magazine, safeties rifle, shows clear to RO, and moves to prone position.

From the prone position shooter inserts one magazine loaded with ten rounds and fires ten shots at a bullseye target (SR-1). Shooter then removes magazine, safeties rifle, and inserts empty chamber indicator.

This course is shot in a 3 minute time limit. When cease fire is called you must cease fire and clear your rifle. Any shots fired after a cease fire will result in removal of the same number of hits from the target, lowest first.

Scoring will be value of hits on SR-1 target with number of “X” ring hits used as tie breaker in case of tie.

“Fire and Movement” (two stages)

Range will vary from contact to 100 yards.

- There will be two action shooting stages at this years match. One will be similar to the action stage we have shot for the last 4 years, but abbreviated in scope. The other will have less movement and shorter shots to make, but likely will require movement in a restrictive space (knee pads might not a bad idea). Expect to have to shoot small and large paper plate sized objects from contact to about 50 yards distance, and large paper plate sized objects out to 100 yards. There will also be steel targets ranging from 8” to 14” in diameter from 75-100 yards. You will need to be able to carry your magazines on you. Bring at least 4 magazines.

There will be a mandatory malfunction drill.

One stage may require a shot with a dummy rifle grenade. A rifle capable of that will be provided.

Use of a 12ga pump shotgun will be required. One will be provided (Mossberg 590), but you may also bring your own as long as it does not have an optic on it.

Scoring will be shot value of hits on silhouette targets and steel targets divided by the shooters time to complete the stages.

New this year we will be having a side match using the Browning Hi Power pistol. There will be two classes, stock and other. ANY obvious modifications or optic will put you into the other class.

I do not have the details for this stage at this time, but expect to need 4 magazines and some method of carrying them with you. Shots will range from contact to about 30 yards.

The rules

General

-no use of bipods (can be on the rifle, but cannot be used)

Stock class

-no optics

-no free float tubes

-no non-standard brakes

-308 only

-20 round mags only

Optics

-same as stock but allows optics

Non-stock class

-no restrictions

-greater than 20 round magazines allowed

Other items of note:

- The target section will have an overall time limit this year. The target section of the match will require the shooter to change position. Because this will be occurring at the same time other shooters are shooting, additional safety is required. For this reason, shooters will need to show that their rifle is empty and clear before changing positions. While it is true many FALs exist with BHO that do not operate on empty magazines, use of a FAL without this feature may slow the shooter down as it will force the shooter to drop the magazine and manually cycle the bolt to show clear. Deal with it or get a proper BHO.

-Bullseye targets may vary in size from less than 8-1/2" x 11" to over 2 feet in size and distances may vary from 20 yards to 100 yards.

-Targets during the action shooting section will be standard modern IPSC, paper plates, or steel plates. White IPSC targets will indicate no-shoots.

-You will need to be able to carry your ammo on your person. You will need 30 rounds for the target section and as much as 100 rounds for each action stage. (The action COF is not finalized yet, but it will be as big as I can make it).

-The action section will be score/time = factor.

-The target section will be score only, but will have a maximum shooting time to be determined.

-Shooters will be disqualified for the following: breaking the 180, negligent discharge, dropping their rifle, loading a rifle off the line, or any handling of a rifle in an unsafe manner.

-Rifles will be Zip-tied at check-in if an approved ECI is not already present. No weapon shall have the Zip-tie or ECI removed until on the line and instructed to do so by the RO. Additional zip-ties will be provided.

-There will be NO provisions for sighting in.

-River Bend is a COLD range, no firearms other than FALs will be allowed on the range.

-Only members may use the other ranges at RBGC.

-There are basic camping locations at RBGC, and there are bathrooms as well as RV power hookups. There are no sewage facilities for RVs. Please contact me if you plan to camp or RV.
